Hi.

My name is Ian, and I will be presenting a recitation for this week.

We will be discussing regression trees and applying them to the house price data from Boston.

We will also consider some alternative visualizations of both our model and our data.

So let's get started.